About monitoring of compliance

The purpose of regulation in relation to designated centres is to safeguard vulnerable people of any age who are receiving residential care services. Regulation provides assurance to the public that people living in a designated centre are receiving a service that meets the requirements of quality standards which are underpinned by regulations. This process also seeks to ensure that the health, wellbeing and quality of life of people in residential care is promoted and protected. Regulation also has an important role in driving continuous improvement so that residents have better, safer lives.

The Health Information and Quality Authority has, among its functions under law, responsibility to regulate the quality of service provided in designated centres for children, dependent people and people with disabilities.

Regulation has two aspects:
- Registration: under Section 46(1) of the Health Act 2007 any person carrying on the business of a designated centre can only do so if the centre is registered under this Act and the person is its registered provider.
- Monitoring of compliance: the purpose of monitoring is to gather evidence on which to make judgments about the ongoing fitness of the registered provider and the provider’s compliance with the requirements and conditions of his/her registration.

Monitoring inspections take place to assess continuing compliance with the regulations and standards. They can be announced or unannounced, at any time of day or night, and take place:
- to monitor compliance with regulations and standards
- following a change in circumstances; for example, following a notification to the Health Information and Quality Authority’s Regulation Directorate that a provider has appointed a new person in charge
- arising from a number of events including information affecting the safety or well-being of residents

The findings of all monitoring inspections are set out under a maximum of 18 outcome statements. The outcomes inspected against are dependent on the purpose of the inspection. Where a monitoring inspection is to inform a decision to register or to renew the registration of a designated centre, all 18 outcomes are inspected.
Compliance with the Health Act 2007 (Care and Support of Residents in Designated Centres for Persons (Children And Adults) With Disabilities) Regulations 2013, Health Act 2007 (Registration of Designated Centres for Persons (Children and Adults with Disabilities) Regulations 2013 and the National Standards for Residential Services for Children and Adults with Disabilities.

This inspection report sets out the findings of a monitoring inspection, the purpose of which was to inform a registration decision. This monitoring inspection was announced and took place over 3 day(s).

Summary of findings from this inspection
The Health Information and Quality Authority (the Authority) received an application seeking registration approval to accommodate 4 residents in this designated centre. As part of the application for registration the provider nominee was requested to submit relevant documentation to the Authority. The inspector reviewed this documentation, obtained the views of residents,(as far as practicable) and staff members, observed practices, assessed the premises and reviewed documentation such as care plans, medical records, accident logs, policies and procedures and staff records.
A monitoring inspection of the service was carried out in June 2014, however, since that date the service has been reconfigured and therefore this was the first inspection of the designated centre.

The designated centre consists of a residency situated in a small town. Accommodation is provided for 4 residents. The centre provides facilities and services for residents with a diagnosis of intellectual disability and /or other conditions. There were no vacancies at the time of the inspection.

The inspector met with the person in charge and manager to outline the inspection process and methodology and provided feedback to the management team at the conclusion of the inspection. The provider nominee was unable to attend.

The person in charge demonstrated knowledge of the legislation and standards during the inspection process and in a fit person interview conducted prior to the inspection.

The inspector met all of the residents currently being accommodated, some were aware of the inspection process and expressed their satisfaction in respect of living in the community and while others did not express an opinion, they showed the inspector their private bedroom space and appeared happy and content in their community environment.

There was evidence that residents were consulted with and participate in decisions about their care and about the organisation of the centre. Information was readily available about the advocacy service and each resident’s privacy and dignity was respected. A complaints policy procedure was available.

Residents had good access to nursing, medical and allied health care. There were measures in place to protect residents from being harmed or suffering abuse. The inspector saw that person centred care was promoted and there was evidence of opportunities for residents to participate in meaningful activities, appropriate to their interests and capacities.

The location, design and layout of the premises met the needs of residents.

The health and safety of residents, visitors and staff was promoted and protected as staff were observant in identifying, analysing and controlling risks.

From an examination of the staff duty roster, observation of residents and communication with staff the inspector found that the levels and skill mix of staff at the time of inspection were sufficient to meet the needs of residents.

There was evidence that staff had access to education and training. Staff demonstrated that they had good knowledge of the residents and their needs. They emphasised the importance of promoting a holistic care model which embraced the concept of each resident being enabled to exercise choice and control over their lives in accordance with their preferences while maximising their independence.
Scrutiny of records showed that these were maintained in accordance with the legislation.

Areas requiring improvement are identified in the action plan at the end of the report in order to ensure compliance with Health Act 2007 (Care and Support of Residents in Designated Centres for Persons (Children and Adults) with Disabilities) Regulations 2013 and the National Quality Standards for Residential Services for Children and Adults with Disabilities.
Section 41(1)(c) of the Health Act 2007. Compliance with the Health Act 2007 (Care and Support of Residents in Designated Centres for Persons (Children And Adults) With Disabilities) Regulations 2013, Health Act 2007 (Registration of Designated Centres for Persons (Children and Adults with Disabilities) Regulations 2013 and the National Standards for Residential Services for Children and Adults with Disabilities.

Outcome 01: Residents Rights, Dignity and Consultation
Residents are consulted with and participate in decisions about their care and about the organisation of the centre. Residents have access to advocacy services and information about their rights. Each resident’s privacy and dignity is respected. Each resident is enabled to exercise choice and control over his/her life in accordance with his/her preferences and to maximise his/her independence. The complaints of each resident, his/her family, advocate or representative, and visitors are listened to and acted upon and there is an effective appeals procedure.

Theme:
Individualised Supports and Care

Outstanding requirement(s) from previous inspection(s):
This was the centre’s first inspection by the Authority.

Findings:
There was evidence that residents are consulted with and participate in decisions about their care and about the organisation of the designated centre. For example, house meetings have been convened in order to work out menus for the evening meals and social programmes.

The inspector observed staff engaging with residents in a manner that was respectful. The inspector found that some staff had worked with in the service for many years while others were recently appointed, however, all staff were familiar with the residents’ needs, capabilities, their life histories and family support circles.

A resident remained at home from a day time activation programme to welcome and show the inspector his/her home including his/her bedroom accommodation. Some residents who returned to the designated centre in the late afternoon were keen to show the inspector their private bedroom accommodation and describe their personal interests.

Some residents shared their care planning records with the inspector and in other instances, staff members had obtained residents’ permission for the inspector to review their care planning records/documentation in their absence.

Residents had individual bedrooms which had ample storage space for personal possessions and some of the bedrooms had comfortable seating so that they could receive visitors in private. Residents’ bedrooms were personalised with photographs of families and friends, were decorated in accordance with the residents’ preferences and choices, had tasteful soft furnishings and the private spaces reflected residents' personalities and interests.

The inspector observed residents freely accessing all aspects of the communal premises and one resident was making an evening meal for the resident group and staff.

The inspector was informed by staff that there were sufficient staff available if residents chose to remain at home from their activation programme or return home at any time if they wished to do so.

The inspector saw notice boards conveying information to residents in relation to the dates and times when staff would be working, menus and social activities.

Residents had access to an independent advocacy service and one resident availed of the service.

There was a complaints policy and procedure which was translated into an understandable format for those residents who had the capacity to understand it. Staff informed the inspector that residents clearly understood the complaints procedure and every effort was made to resolve the complaint as quickly and effectively as possible.

The inspector heard that a resident made a complaint to the person in charge on the night prior to the inspection and this had been immediately addressed.

An examination of the complaints record showed that in the main complaints brought about an effective outcome for residents, however, it was noted that a complaint made by a resident had not been satisfactorily resolved/finalised and the procedural guidance for staff was not comprehensive.

Judgment:
Non Compliant - Moderate

Outcome 02: Communication
Residents are able to communicate at all times. Effective and supportive interventions are provided to residents if required to ensure their communication needs are met.

Theme:
Individualised Supports and Care

Outstanding requirement(s) from previous inspection(s):
This was the centre’s first inspection by the Authority.

Findings:
In residents’ personal care plans the inspector saw that the mode of communication used by the individual residents were described and staff working with residents were able to interpret residents’ verbal and non-verbal expressions.

There was documentary evidence in respect of speech and language professionals providing a service to some of the residents.

The residents communicated freely with the inspector and invited the inspector to view their private bedroom space showing items and processions which had significant meaning in their lives.

The inspector saw that information that was relevant to residents was in an appropriate format for the residents’ communication abilities and capacity of understanding, for example, menu planning.

Local newspapers were available in the communal areas for residents and there were televisions and CDs/radios in all of the residents’ bedrooms. Computer information and technology was also made available appropriate to residents’ capacity and understanding.

Judgment:
Compliant

Outcome 03: Family and personal relationships and links with the community
Residents are supported to develop and maintain personal relationships and links with the wider community. Families are encouraged to get involved in the lives of residents.

Theme:
Individualised Supports and Care

Outstanding requirement(s) from previous inspection(s):
This was the centre’s first inspection by the Authority.

Findings:
There was substantial evidence that residents are supported to develop and maintain personal relationships and links with the wider community. For example residents shopped for foodstuffs from the preplanned menu choices and some residents participated in community events and went to the local pub, restaurants, hairdressers, post office, golf club and cinema. This was confirmed by the residents and relatives who completed questionnaires. Relatives particularly highlighted the enthusiastic welcome that they receive when they visit the designated centre. The information obtained from the questionnaires identified that respondents were positive regarding the facilities and services and care received.

Staff and management informed the inspector that relatives and family members are provided with up-to-date information regarding residents’ care and condition and are invited to attend care planning reviews. This was also confirmed by relatives in the completed questionnaires.

Some residents had photographs of significant people in their lives hanging on the walls of their bedrooms.
Each house has suitable communal facilities including sufficient space to receive visitors.

If the admission is deemed appropriate written agreement is forwarded to the resident/or their representatives, if the resident is not capable of giving consent. This includes the terms of occupancy.

Each resident had a written contract agreed within a month of admission to the service. An examination of the contract showed that this set out the services to be provided and the fees charged including items which incur additional charges.

Residents’ aspirations and goals were stated, and there was evidence that residents were empowered and supported in achieving their goals, which resulted in successful outcomes, for example planning holidays.

Documentation showed that there were regular reviews of residents’ care plans in consultation with residents and or their next of kin/families.

Staff in their communications with the inspector demonstrated that they were knowledgeable of residents' needs and behaviour management plans were in place where necessary.

The inspector saw that pictorial aids were used to assist residents to understand the care planning process.

The designated centre is a bungalow and consists of 4 individual bedrooms. Communal facilities include, sitting, dining kitchen and utility room and sufficient toilets/bathrooms to meet the needs of the current resident group. Storage facilities were adequate.

The furnishings and fixtures are modern and bright and the designated centre has been well maintained. However the following matters were identified:

- A sloping gradient into one of the bedrooms from the corridor.
- An odour of dampness in the bathroom.
- Three steps leading from the exit door of the utility room into the outdoor space.
- A loose panel in the front door.
- Two different levels in the entrance hall which may cause a problem for residents with mobility difficulties.

Theme:
Effective Services

Outstanding requirement(s) from previous inspection(s):
This was the centre’s first inspection by the Authority.

Findings:
The inspector found that the health and safety of residents, visitors and staff was promoted and protected as there was a policy and procedure in respect of managing risk which included documentation in relation to recording and analysing risks in order to take measures to control the risks. For example measures had been taken to increase staffing levels to meet the needs of residents and provide staff with appropriate training in rescue medication for residents with epilepsy.
Fire equipment was easily accessible and prominently placed throughout the designated centre and servicing was up to date. The inspector observed during the inspection that fire exit doors had not been obstructed. Staff and residents are involved in fire safety and evacuation procedures. Smoke detectors were located in various rooms throughout the designated centre in order to assist staff and residents in detecting the risk of fire in an emergency. However, there was no centralised fire panel. The person in charge informed the inspector that staff and residents were familiar with the fire evacuation procedures and this was confirmed by staff on duty and residents.

The Authority received written confirmation from a competent officer contracted by the organisation confirming that the centre was inspected on 3 April 2014 and was in compliance with fire safety regulations, however, the incorrect address of the designated centre was identified on the documentation. Management agreed that a further inspection of the designated centre would be carried out and the advice of the competent person sought regarding the necessity or otherwise to have a fire panel installed in the designated centre so that there would be no unnecessary delay in detecting a fire.

Infection-control measures were in place for example, there were facilities available for hand hygiene, closed bins for disposal of hand towels, sufficient toilet rolls and holders in place, appropriate storage of toiletries and dental hygiene equipment.

Staff had participated in training in infection control, hand hygiene and moving and handling.

Judgment:
