About monitoring of compliance

The purpose of regulation in relation to designated centres is to safeguard vulnerable people of any age who are receiving residential care services. Regulation provides assurance to the public that people living in a designated centre are receiving a service that meets the requirements of quality standards which are underpinned by regulations. This process also seeks to ensure that the health, wellbeing and quality of life of people in residential care is promoted and protected. Regulation also has an important role in driving continuous improvement so that residents have better, safer lives.

The Health Information and Quality Authority has, among its functions under law, responsibility to regulate the quality of service provided in designated centres for children, dependent people and people with disabilities.

Regulation has two aspects:
- Registration: under Section 46(1) of the Health Act 2007 any person carrying on the business of a designated centre can only do so if the centre is registered under this Act and the person is its registered provider.
- Monitoring of compliance: the purpose of monitoring is to gather evidence on which to make judgments about the ongoing fitness of the registered provider and the provider’s compliance with the requirements and conditions of his/her registration.

Monitoring inspections take place to assess continuing compliance with the regulations and standards. They can be announced or unannounced, at any time of day or night, and take place:
- to monitor compliance with regulations and standards
- following a change in circumstances; for example, following a notification to the Health Information and Quality Authority’s Regulation Directorate that a provider has appointed a new person in charge
- arising from a number of events including information affecting the safety or well-being of residents

The findings of all monitoring inspections are set out under a maximum of 18 outcome statements. The outcomes inspected against are dependent on the purpose of the inspection. Where a monitoring inspection is to inform a decision to register or to renew the registration of a designated centre, all 18 outcomes are inspected.
Compliance with the Health Act 2007 (Care and Support of Residents in Designated Centres for Persons (Children And Adults) With Disabilities) Regulations 2013, Health Act 2007 (Registration of Designated Centres for Persons (Children and Adults with Disabilities) Regulations 2013 and the National Standards for Residential Services for Children and Adults with Disabilities.

Summary of findings from this inspection

Background to the inspection
This was an 18 Outcome inspection carried out to monitor compliance with the regulations and standards and to inform a registration decision. As part of the inspection, the inspector reviewed actions the provider had completed since the previous inspection conducted on 7 May 2015. The designated centre is part of the service provided by Praxis Care in Monaghan, and provided residential services to adults with an intellectual disability.
How we gathered our evidence
During the inspection the inspector met with all three residents at the centre. Residents told the inspector that they enjoyed living at the centre, and that they were supported by staff in a respectful and dignified manner. Where residents were unable to tell the inspector about the quality of service they received, the inspector observed residents to appear comfortable and happy at the centre. The inspector met with relatives and staff members. The inspector observed practices and reviewed documents such as care plans, medical records, policies and procedures, and staff files.

Interviews were carried out with the person in charge, persons participating in the management of the centre and the person authorized to act on behalf of the provider.

Description of the service
The provider had produced a document called the statement of purpose, as required by the regulations, which described the service provided. The inspector found that the service was being provided as it was described in that document. The centre was a bungalow at the back of a large campus, close at to a nearby town, with access to local amenities and shops. The centre comprised three bedrooms with a communal bathroom incorporating a walk in shower, along with a communal sitting room and kitchen come dining room.

Overall findings
Overall, the inspector found that residents received support in line with their needs, although in relation to access to social and recreational activities in the wider community this was inhibited by staffing levels at the centre. In addition, the centre's layout was not suitable for their needs in relation to communal space and bathroom facilities.

The provider and person in charge demonstrated knowledge and competence during the inspection and the inspector found them to be fit persons to participate in the management of the centre.

Summary of regulatory compliance
The centre was inspected against 18 Outcomes. For the most part the provider had put appropriate systems in place to ensure the regulations were being met. The inspector found compliance in 11 out of the 18 Outcomes inspected, with a positive focus on the promotion of residents’ rights, access to healthcare and staff training. Major non-compliance was found in three outcomes relating to the suitability of the premises and staffing levels not being reflective of residents’ needs. Moderate non-compliance was found in one outcomes, with substantial compliance identified in three outcome.

These findings are further detailed under each outcome in the report and the regulations that are not being met are included in the Action Plan at the end.
Section 41(1)(c) of the Health Act 2007. Compliance with the Health Act 2007 (Care and Support of Residents in Designated Centres for Persons (Children And Adults) With Disabilities) Regulations 2013, Health Act 2007 (Registration of Designated Centres for Persons (Children and Adults with Disabilities) Regulations 2013 and the National Standards for Residential Services for Children and Adults with Disabilities.

Outcome 01: Residents Rights, Dignity and Consultation

Residents are consulted with and participate in decisions about their care and about the organisation of the centre. Residents have access to advocacy services and information about their rights. Each resident’s privacy and dignity is respected. Each resident is enabled to exercise choice and control over his/her life in accordance with his/her preferences and to maximise his/her independence. The complaints of each resident, his/her family, advocate or representative, and visitors are listened to and acted upon and there is an effective appeals procedure.

Theme:

The inspector found that although there were policies and procedures in place to ensure residents’ rights were promoted and they were involved the running of the centre. The centre’s design did not ensure residents’ privacy and dignity; along with staffing levels not ensuring residents had choice in their daily lives.

Residents told the inspector that they were involved in the running of the centre through regular monthly meetings were they were supported to make choices on activities and meals, which was reflective of documentation reviewed.

The centre’s complaints policy was available in an accessible format, and identified nominated persons involved in the investigation and management of complaints. Residents and their families told the inspector that they were happy with the support received and would complain if this was not the case. Information on the centre’s policy and advocacy services were displayed and was reflective of resident, families and staff knowledge.

Residents were supported to access a range of activities reflective of their interests as identified in personal plans and daily care notes, which included for example day services, local restaurants, cinemas and sporting venues. The inspector however observed that staffing was not reflective of all residents’ needs leading to the pre-planning of one-to-one activities or group-based activities occurring as highlighted in the previous inspection of the centre.
The centre had a visitors’ policy, which was reflective of residents and their families' experiences, however the centre did not have facilities available for residents to meet their family in private. The inspector observed that the design of the centre as identified in the previous inspection did not promote residents’ right to privacy and dignity as access to the communal bathroom was through the kitchen/dining room.

Residents were supported with the management of personal possessions and finances in line with the centre’s policy, with inventories being maintained on personal belongings, and financial support being given in line with residents' assessed needs as reflected in personal plans. Residents had access to laundry facilities, along with suitable storage for personal belongings in their bedrooms.

As with the previous inspection findings, the inspector observed that the bathroom was accessed through the kitchen come dining room which did not promote residents’ privacy and dignity. The kitchen come dining room did not provide adequate communal space for the number and needs of residents. Furthermore, the sitting room also contained an office area with computer infringing on communal space available, and the centre did not offer suitable arrangements for residents’ to meet visitors in private.
